DON'T MISS THE FAMILY FUN!
Westchester Arts Council's FREE ARTS DAY in Westchester County

Hudson Valley Center for Contemporary Art in Peekskill features Rene Stockton, A Slam Poet

Peekskill, New York Take the whole family on a FREE arts adventure on Sunday December 10, 2006! Arts lovers of all ages will be welcome at cultural sites throughout the county on the Westchester Arts Council's 6th annual FREE ARTS DAY.

This one-day-only event features Westchester's finest arts organizations who will offer free admissions to their museums, arts centers and historical sites while hosting music and dance performances, storytelling performances, and workshops. Free Arts Day gives participating organizations the opportunity to give back to their communities with a gift of art during this unforgettable day of free art events. Arts lovers from all corners of the county can find something to do close to home.

In Peekskill, the Hudson Valley Center for Contemporary Art will feature Arts Council roster artist slam poet, Rene Stockton, who uses traditional art forms, like poetry and the written word, to explore human conditions and major issues. Stockton's free workshop will begin at 2pm in the museum located at 1701 Main Street. For more information call the HVCCA at 914 788-7166.

For more information on other Free Arts Day events, call the Westchester Arts Council at 914-428-4220 or visit www.westarts.com.
